TRANSCRIPT FOR "TALLULAH" ON "RADIO"

- If the weight of the world is weighing you down right now if you feel lonely wondering what's gonna happen next I can't fix any of that. I cannot change that someone you love has betrayed you or someone you love has left this world. Or if your library books are overdue. I can't change the weather outside. But what I can do is I can help you change your attitude. I can help you choose love, choose peace, choose serenity. Choose to focus on the good things that are happening in life, and, of course, choose a better book to read. Phone lines are open 309-5238. Talk to you soon. So much to share with you today. Come on in, get warm. Hi there, what can we do for you tonight?

- Hi Tallulah, I am a first time caller, but a longtime listener. It is so cool to be on the show. My name is Adelaide.

- What a pretty name. Tell me more.

- Yeah, so I took the book out of the library and I read most of it, but then I had to return it and I really would like to read it again. But you know, a lot of other people have been checking them out so I haven't had a chance to see them again. So it's sort of like, I guess a bit of a misconnection.

- Yeah, I understand that dilemma. Some books are some really hot numbers. So what have you done to get this book? Have you put yourself on the wait list?

- I'm so far down the list. I don't know if I'll ever see it again. Sometimes I see it on the hold shelf and I know that it's there, but I can't pick it up 'cause it's not for me.

- How about interlibrary loan?

- Oh, I mean, might have to come from pretty far.

- So if you really love this book why didn't you finish it when you had it the first time?

- I mean, you know how life can be. Got a little busy. It was really interesting though.
- Are you sure? Did you love it as much as you say you do?
- Oh, oh absolutely. I renewed it three times.
- And you still didn't finish it?
- Yeah.
- You know, some books aren't meant to be kept forever. Let them see the world, let other people enjoy them for a while.
- I just, you know, I just wish I could spend more time with it.
- Why don't you tell us the name of this hot book?
- Well, I think they know who they are, but I would say, let's just call them 030-013-4800.
- Oh, well it sounds like this book really captured your heart.
- Yeah.
- Adelaide, I think you know what you have to do.

- Good evening and welcome to "Carpe Librum." I'm your host Tallulah. What's on your book loving heart? Is there a special sweetheart, someone you're thinking of? Maybe that person who first introduced you to the wide, wide world of books? That first librarian who lets you into the best card carrying club. Give them a shout out on our requesting dedication line. Whether you have a recommendation you wanna send to someone special or you'd like for me to find just the right thing. Call now at 309-5238. That's 309-5238. I'll be sharing words of love and hope and inspiration and of course fabulous songs all day long. So come on in, get warm and let's head to the phone lines. Hi there, what can I do to make your evening a little more special?
- It's Davor, I've been listening to you forever. I can't believe I'm finally on your show.
- Oh, thank you so much.
- Well, Tallulah, I'm so happy to be on your show and I'm so excited because the love of my life just moved in with me and I never thought that could ever happen.
- Oh, this is a story I wanna hear, tell us.
- Well, my whole apartment used to be just filled with piles of movies and records, magazines, stacks of old magazines. And whenever anybody saw my place, well, they thought I was kind of kind of nuts.
- I understand, I mean, nostalgia. It's something that you like to keep around. There's nothing wrong with being surrounded by your things.
- I guess you're right. But it was a little bit extreme.
- So how did you make room for the love of your life?
- I finally found a place where I could be surrounded by all these things, that's not my apartment. You know what it is, Tallulah?
- Tell me.
- It's the library.

- The library, wonderful.
- I have all this space in my place and I also have a little bit of extra money. So we're going on a trip too.
- Well, this sounds like something that's worth celebrating. How can I help you do that?
- Well, I was hoping you could play a song for my library and my lady.
- You got it. For the libraries and Davor's lady.
